Utrecht, August 17, 2001

Dear colleague,

By letter of last March 12, I informed you about recent developments at the CCER/U-CCER Production B.V. In addition to that, this letter is to notify you of the new pricing policy of the hieroglyphic text processing software Glyph for Windows and MacScribe.

In order to develop Glyph for Windows and MacScribe as professional hieroglyphic text processing programs CCER/Utrecht University and the IFAO have done considerable investments in the past, which can in no way be covered by the sales. Permanent developments of hard- and software, in particular of operating systems require regularly upgrading of Glyph for Windows and MacScribe as a consequence. Because the research organisations are not able to cover all of the cost of regular upgrading of both programs, it has been decided to revise the price of licenses and to adopt a pricing policy, which reflects more the practices of the commercial market. In this way we hope to be able to continue the support of these important tools for Egyptologists.

As a consequence we offer you three versions of both packages now:
